Julie P. Gentile, M.D. is Professor of Psychiatry at Wright State University and the Project Director for Ohio's Coordinating Center of Excellence in Mental Illness/Intellectual Disability. She has been the Professor of Dual Diagnosis for the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services and the Ohio Department of Developmental Disability. Dr. Gentile is the recipient of both the American Psychiatric Association's and the NADD's Frank J. Menolascino Award for Excellence in Psychiatric Services for DD, the Excellence in Contributions to Clinical Practice Award from the NADD and a member of Alpha Omega Alpha Medical Honor Society. She is also the recipient of the Nancy Roeske Award in Medical Education from the American Psychiatric Association.

Mary Vicario, LPCC-S—Finding Hope Consulting addresses the gap in training available to communities by turning current brain chemistry research into practical interventions for children, adults and people with DD who have experienced trauma. Through interactive and entertaining training, Finding Hope brings neurobiology to life using common language and interventions for clinicians, caseworkers, birth and foster parents, DD service providers and others. In addition to training, Finding Hope Consulting provides "theory to practice" consultation to help you immediately apply your learning to your daily interactions with those you serve. Mary has been using creative and engaging ways to train on trauma worldwide for 25 years.
